

ISCVE
ISCVE.ORG.UK

The professional organisation for the sound, communications and AV industry

Join a welcoming, professional Institute, supporting your development in sound, communications and AV engineering. ISCVE Membership is an endorsement of technical excellence.

Benefits of Membership

Why join ISCVE?

- Gain professional recognition through an appropriate membership grade and use the relevant designation, where awarded.
- Access technical advice and technical notes to support your work and develop your knowledge.
- Develop your skills through training, technical seminars and other opportunities for continuing professional development (CPD).
- Access relevant ECS assessments and card application routes, subject to the requirements for your chosen card.
- Explore routes to Professional Registration, subject to the relevant eligibility and assessment requirements.
- Develop your business and profile through networking opportunities at trade shows and ISCVE events.
- Use member resources, including website member pages, our e-newsletter and company document templates.
- Benefit from discounts on British Standards and selected training and events, with advice available on British and International Standards.

Why support staff membership?

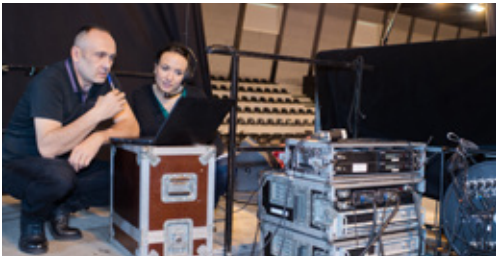

- Help staff gain recognition for their skills and experience.
- Support technical learning and CPD that staff can apply to their work.
- Encourage professional development and career progression.
- Help eligible staff access relevant ECS card application routes.

How can your company get involved?

Companies can connect with ISCVE through the Supporting Membership or Registered Installer scheme and benefits include:

- Intrinsic value of being part of a body of excellence, with a certificate and plaque for display showing your association with ISCVE.
- Greater business exposure through a company listing on the ISCVE website with a link to your company profile.
- Publication of press releases to support your business and celebrate your successes.
- Access to industry events at reduced rates.
- Recruitment advertising to a target industry relevant audience.

Grades and Designations

The following grades of membership are available within the Institute

- Student – Individuals receiving full-time training and/or preparation for employment (including apprenticeship schemes, formal company training and mentoring).
- Graduate – Individuals with a Bachelors degree equivalent or higher in a technical subject and seeking employment within the industry.
- Associate – Individuals with an interest in the industry, who are not actively employed in a technical role.
- Technician – Individuals with a standard of general education and technical competence or industry training, having at least one year of industry employment.
  Designation – TechInstSCVE
- Senior Technician – Individuals with a high level of technical expertise within an appropriate technical subject, experience within the industry, or employed in a supervisory role within an established organisation.
  Designation – SenTechInstSCVE
- Member – a senior category for individuals with suitable qualifications and experience, holding a responsible position and applying extensive technical, but not necessarily academic, knowledge within the industry.
  Designation – MInstSCVE
- Affiliate Member – a senior category for individuals without academic qualifications or extensive experience, but making a significant contribution to the industry.
  Designation – AMInstSCVE
- Fellow – Individuals of technical eminence recognised for outstanding contributions to the Institute or the industry, as determined by Council.
  Designation – FInstSCVE
- Companion – Individuals honoured and respected in the field, awarded entirely on outstanding contributions to the Institute or the industry, as determined by Council.
  Designation – CompInstSCVE

ISCVE members agree to abide by our professional code of conduct in their technical work and in their working relationships.
ISCVE is committed to a policy of equality and inclusion for all its members and stakeholders.

GET IN TOUCH

iscve.org.uk

FOLLOW US